

The drawing consists of two parts. Part 1 is a perspective view of a rectangular block with a central rectangular section filled with a wavy pattern. The block is labeled with 1, 2, 3, and 4. Part 2 is a cross-sectional view of the block, showing its internal structure. It is labeled with 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, and 15. The cross-section shows a central core (7) surrounded by a wavy patterned layer (8). This core is flanked by two hatched layers (13 and 14). A vertical line (10) passes through the center. A horizontal line (11) is shown at the bottom. A vertical line (12) is shown on the right. A horizontal line (13) is shown at the top. A vertical line (14) is shown on the left. A horizontal line (15) is shown at the bottom. A vertical line (6) is shown on the right. A horizontal line (9) is shown at the top. A vertical line (5) is shown on the left. A horizontal line (4) is shown at the top. A vertical line (3) is shown on the left. A horizontal line (2) is shown at the bottom. A vertical line (1) is shown on the right.
